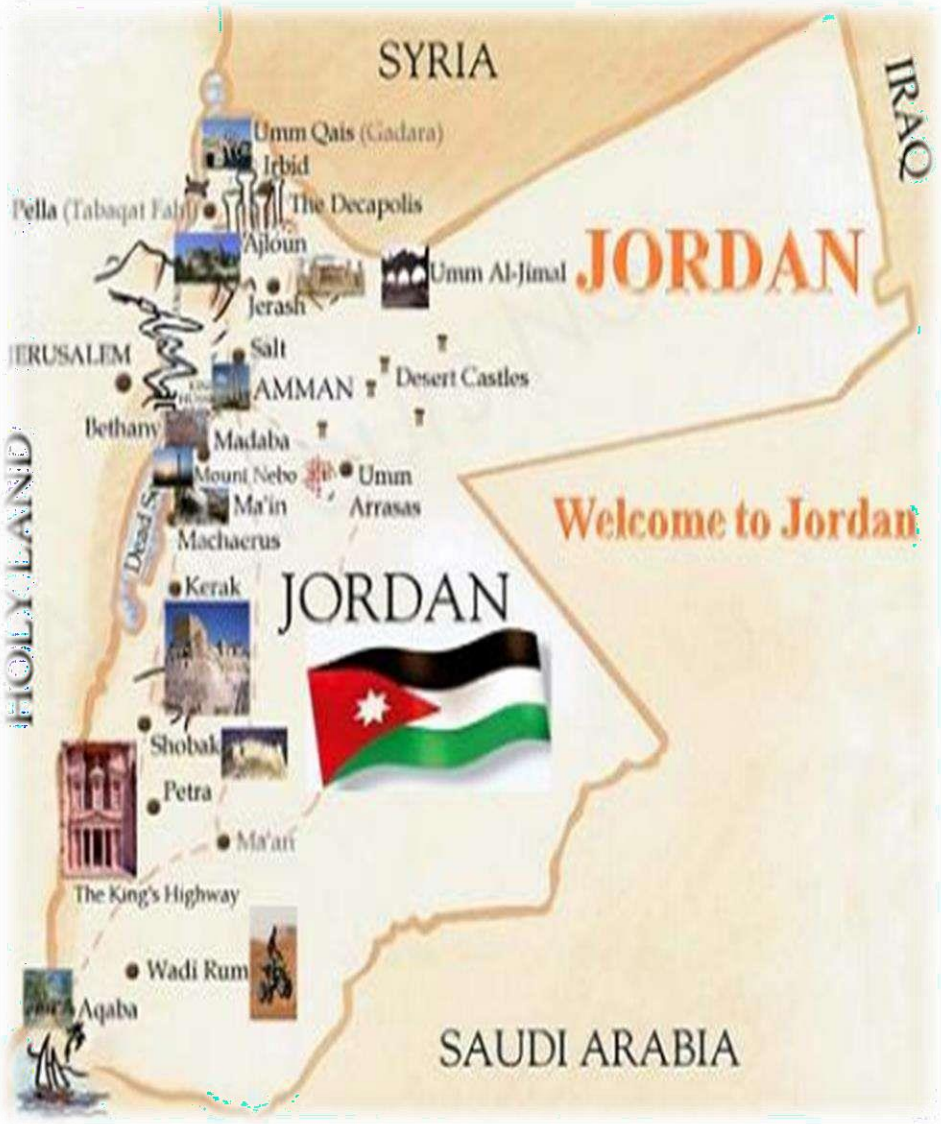
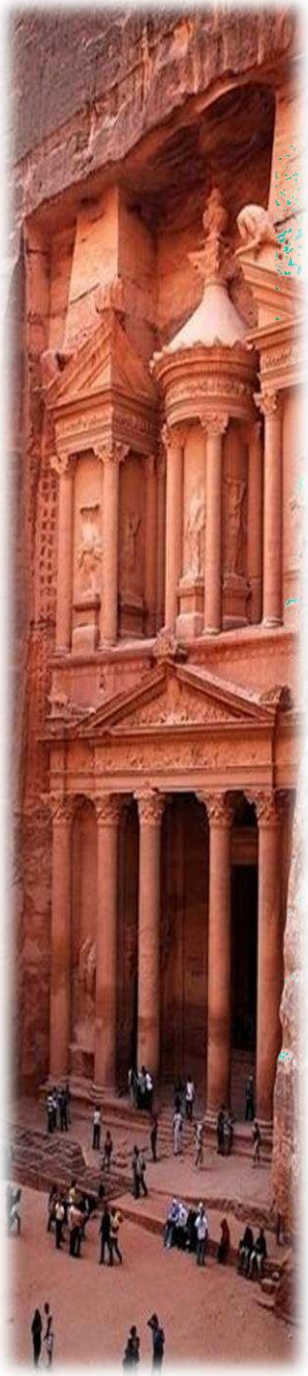
Jordan



The Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan located in the Middle East. It is a country at the crossroads of the continents of Asia, Africa and Europe. Countries with international borders to Jordan are Iraq, Israel, SaudiArabia, Syria, and a portion of the Palestinian territories (West Bank),and it shares maritime borders with Egypt.

Jordan has a population of 10.2 million people. Capital and largest city is Amman . Spoken language is Arabic (official) and English. Jordan is a country with a predominantly Muslim population, about 92% of Jordanians are follower of Sunni Islam, the dominant religion in the country.



Tourism

Its major tourist attractions include visiting historical sites, like the worldwide famous Petra (one of New Seven Wonders of the World), the Jordan River, Mount Nebo, Madaba, numerous medieval mosques and churches, and unspoiled natural locations (as Wadi Rum and Jordan's northern mountainous region in general), as well as observing cultural and religious sites and traditions.

Jordan also offers health tourism, which is focused in the Dead Sea area, education tourism, hiking, snorkeling and scuba diving in Aqaba's coral reefs, pop-culture tourism andshopping tourism in Jordan's cities.
The major sites for tourism are Amman, Aqaba, Dead Sea, Petra, Jerash, Madaba, Ajlun and Karak.

Amman

Amman is a capital of Jordan. Amman is a modern and cosmopolitan city known for its shopping centers, hotels and ruins. Amman contains numerous ancient ruins, with one dating back to 7250 BC at the ruinsof 'Ain Ghazal neolithic village. Other ruins include Amman Citadel which is a hilltop in east Amman that combines many ruins left by several ancient civilizations such as: Umayyad Palace, Byzantine churches, Roman Temple of Hercules.

Down that hill lies the famous large Amman ancient Roman amphitheater along with Hashemite Plaza, Nymphaeum and the smaller Odeon amphitheater. Tourists can visit historical places as Citadel, Roman theatre, Jordan Museum, Royal automobile museum , Beit Sitti located in Amman.

It also makes an excellent base to explore a number of nearby attractions. Castles, rock climbing, cooking lessons, Roman ruins, hiking trails, handicraft workshops, and more are all within reach .

The best day trips from Amman

- Iraq Al Amir. “Caves of the Prince,” the series of 15 caves carved into the cliff across from the Iraq Al Amir Women’s Cooperative.

- Madaba. Spiritual sites, mosaic masterpieces and sweeping views are on the agenda for a day spent in and around Madaba.

- Mount Nebo. Place is where Moses is said to have seen the Promised Land, a land he was himself forbidden to enter. It's believed that he died aged 120 and was later buried in the area.

- Jerash. The slower pace of the northern city of Jerash provides the perfect escape from Amman. And the impressive archaeological site at the city center is believed to be one of the best-preserved Roman towns in the world.

- Ajloun. Climb to the top of Ajloun Castle for a view over the olive groves and surrounding countryside. Hike a section of the Jordan Trail or one of the Ajloun Forest Reserve trails before paying a visit to the three themed houses here: Soap House, Biscuit House and the House of Calligraphy

Dead Sea

The Dead Sea is a place to rest and recharge with natural spa treatments. While you're in the area, you might also consider checking out some community-based tourism activities and try canyoning in Wadi Mujib.

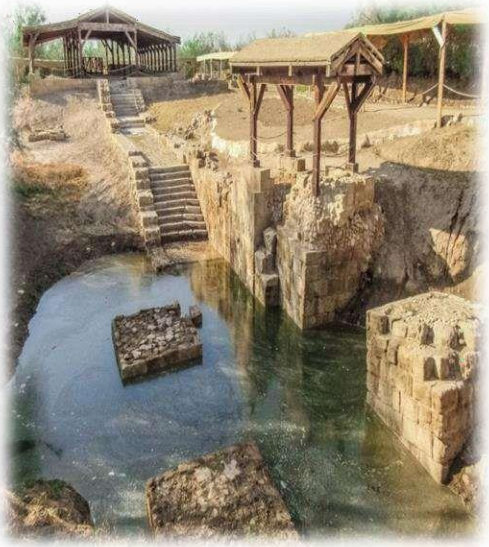
Purchase a day pass from one of the Dead Sea hotels and gain access to their private pools and beaches.

Lather on mineral-rich mud before taking a float in the healing waters here at the lowest point on Earth. Splurge on a spa treatment at the Hotel.

Those looking for adventure will find it at Wadi Mujib where abseiling is available in the river canyon from April through October.

The best day trips from Dead Sea

Ma’in Hot Springs. Ma'in Hot Springs or Hammamat Ma'in (biblical Belemounta), 74 km (64 miles) south of Amman and 264 meters (866 feet) below sea level, is the thermal mineral hot springs and waterfalls, where Herod the Great was said to have bathed in its medicinal water, and where people have come for thermal treatments, or simply to enjoy a hot soak,since the days of Rome. Here the water, ranging from 45°C to a blistering 60°C, tumbles off the hillside in a series of waterfalls and less assuming trickles, and is collected in a variety of pools for public bathing. It contains potassium, magnesium and calcium.



Bethany beyond the Jordan/ Al-Maghtas.

The site of John the Baptist's settlement at Bethany Beyond the Jordan, where Jesus was baptized, has long been known from the Bible (John 1:28 and 10:40) and from the Byzantine and medieval texts. Bethany Beyond the Jordan is located half an hour by car from the Jordanian capital Amman. The Bethany area sites formed part of the early Christian pilgrimage route between Jerusalem, the Jordan River, and Mount Nebo.

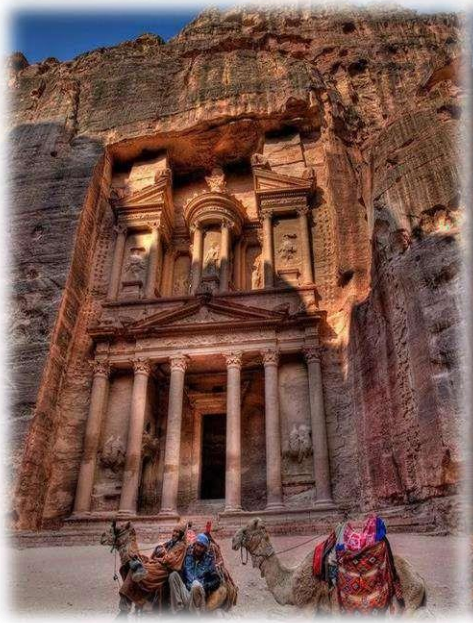
Aqaba

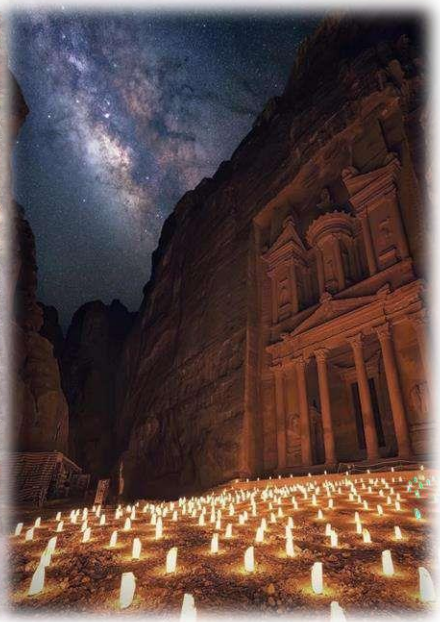
Situated on the southern tip of Jordan, approximately 4 hours from the capital of Amman, Aqaba is a beach town with Jordanian appeal. Equipped with the local watering holes, to water sports, and a historical flair for those looking to revisit the past Aqaba is a delightful complement to the metropolitan appeal of Amman.

Aqaba's natural location is impressive: the narrow beach is surrounded by picturesque mountains and fringed with palm trees.

Historically, there has always been a significant seaport, already under king Solomon, who built his fleet here-ships that had to go on a journey and return with incense, other perfumes and sandalwood. The Nabataeans of Petra controlled the port, then the Romans, and during the Byzantine rule it was the seat of a Bishop.

Petra



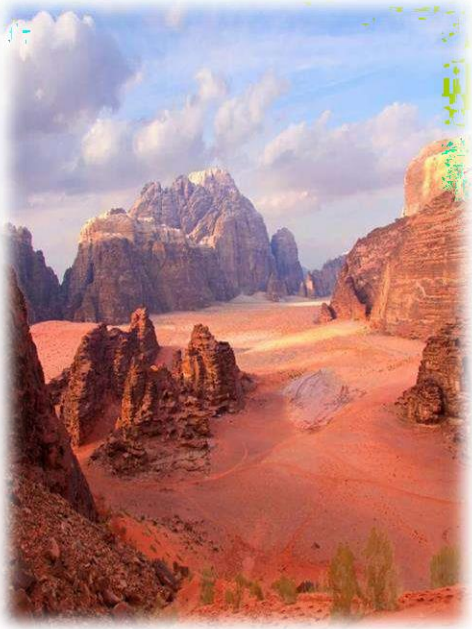


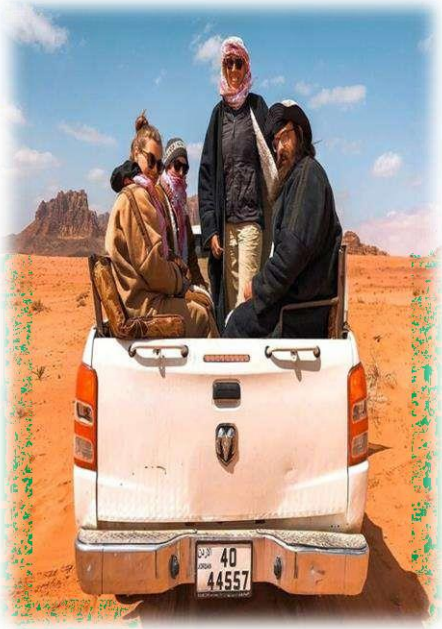
The most important attraction in the whole of Jordan, and at the same time a real highlight - the city of Petra. This is not just a city, but a real miracle of the world! A place that is also called the "City of the red rose".

Walking along the refreshing, slightly cool kilometer-long Sik canyon, it is impossible not to pay attention to the majestic, powerful building with a facade-El-Hazne, which is carved out of a huge rock! In addition, the urn made of stone that crowns the building (it allegedly preserved precious stones and gold) takes your breath away. Itis simply impossible to describe in words the natural amphitheater, where tourists get through the gradually expanding canyon.But finally shakes the mind in these Sandstone walls hollowed out in the rocksof the crypts.

Wadi Rum

Discover why the locals call it the “Valley of the Moon.” Venture through breathtaking scenery littered with history, and discover a timeless place that has been left virtually untouched by humanity and its destructive forces. Marvel at how the weather and winds have carved a maze of monolithic rocks capes rising up from the desert floor to heights of up to 5,740 feet (1,750 meters).





A challenge for serious mountaineers, the mountains also offer hikers complete tranquility in the boundless empty spaces. Explore the canyons and water holes to discover 4,000-year-old rock drawings and other treasures of the wilderness. Discover Wadi Rum by Jeep Safari 4x4 vehicle for two hours into the Wadi system to explore some of the best known sites.
